There are many at the age of thirty to sixty who are troubled with too frequent evacuation of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation, and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits a ropy sediment will often be found, and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of a thin milkish bue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. "It was too much for me to resist such an appeal. I skirted the peach orchard, climbed a fence indifferent to ribbons and tucks, went past the negro quarters, and reached the stable door. There along side of that door hung the tin hunting horn. Horns to call the dogs had been suspended there for over a hundred years. Beauty, father's pet hound, was apparently asleep by the kennel, but she opened one eye and wagged her tail as I approached her. She looked astonished as I reached up my hand to take the horn. morning. Pennsylvania Politics.

PHILADELPHIA, September 10th .-- A gentleman well informed in regard to what is transpiring in political circles says it has been an open secret for six months that the move-ments of the independent Republicans have been largely directed by Wharten Barker. In January, at the assembly building, he de-clared with very great earnestness that Cam-eron and Cameron's methods must be put side, and we must have a free party. March his letter to Sepator Mitchell, and the reply of the Senator, again called attention to the danger to the Republican party should Cameron be longer permitted to insult the people, and in April, at Barker's office, Senator Mitchell met many influential citizens, and the results of the meeting were the Continental Hotel conference of May 1st and the Philadelphia Convention of May 24th. From these facts, and from the fact that Barker is Chairman of the Independent Advisory Board for onducting the campaign, much interest attaches to meetings known to have been held at his office the past week. There can no onger be any doubt that the stalwarts have onfessed their weakness, have proposed the withdrawal of the Cameron-Beaver ticket, The Independents have from the first de-manded the withdrawal of the State Can e on Three attempts to force the doors were unavailing, and the appeals of the Sheriff and Prosecting Attorney caused the mob to disperse. Hunter lay

The Anglo-Egyptian War. ALEXANDRIA, September 10th .- Four o Arabi Pasha's efficers surrendered this mar ... ing to the British picke: at Ramleh. They state that fully 300 of Arabi's men would do the san e, did they not fear that the British would fire on them.

In the engagement yesterday, besides the Egyptians who advanced from Tel-el-Kebir, a force of 1,500 men crossed the desert from Salibiyeh and operated on the right flank of the British. These troops continued the engagement after the Tel-el-Kebir force retired. They had a Krupp battery, which they handled well. The British heavy cavalry pushed them finally captured one Krupp gun, with in the star route case came into Court yes-terday at 10 o'clock, stating that they were and was taken from the hands of a dead standard bearer, belonging to one of Arabi's crack regiments. The Salihiyeh contingent were routed, but the others Kebir in fairly good order. The British loss was comparatively small, perhaps eighty in all killed and wounded. Arabi's plan was well devised, but required better troops to carry it out. The rebels fought better than they have heretofore

> THE KASSASSIN BATTLE. Kassassin, September 10th .- Saturday's repulse of Arabi Pasha is regarded as a com-plete success for the English, who had never calculated upon his attacking them in such a nanner. The enemy did not retire until the English infantry advanced. Arabi left about 200 dead and wounded on the field. The wounded state that the English right was atacked by five battalions of infantry, with five guns and 500 cavalry, under command of Jahmoud Pasha Sami, from Salihiyeh. The enemy had altogether 15,000 men. Saturday night passed quietly, the enemy having dis-appeared behind their entrenchments. At day-break Sunday the English began to throw up rifle pits around Kassassin, in order to prevent Arabi Pasha approaching near enough to shell their camp. The picket of the Thirteenth Bengal Lancers charged a regiment of the enemy's cavalry, rode through them an killed ten men, losing one of their own whose body was subsequently discovered full of bayonet wounds. The enemy threw many of their own wounded alive into the canal The Foot Guards have arrived at the front Stores are coming up fast. The wounded are doing excellently. The loss during the en-gagement was fifty wounded; none killed. An eye-witness of the battle states that the enemy's fire was tremendous, and wonders where those bullets can have gone.

MINOR NOTES. ALEXANDRIA, September 10th .- Officers say only 6,000 rebel troops are now at Kafir-el Dwar, and most of them are worn out. Many are desirous of surrendering, but are foreibly prevented. The Knedive assured the British Consul-General that he had given strict orders for the abolition of "keelhauling," and other kir garrison, which consists in the refusal of 2,000 raw recruits to be drilled. Kassassin, September 10th.-It is learned from prisoners taken in Saturday's engage-ment that Ali Pasha Fehmy led the attack of the enemy.

Two wounded British soldiers have died. ISMAILIA, September 10th .- The Highland Brigade, which left Saturday, only advanced ten miles. The weather is extremely hot, and the men suffer terribly. Two of them died-from sunstroke, and a few others are not ex-pected to live. Two hundred men fell out of the ranks during Saturday's march. Shipwreck-Deaths. London, September 10th,-The steamer Ethiopia has been totally lost off Loango, Sir George Grey, late Home Secretary, ADMISSION DAY.

Celebration by Pioneers and Native Sons-General Observance. Saturday was the thirty-second annivergeneral suspension of business among the of the national colors, and by a celebration at | lowing address: East Park by the Sacramento Pioneer Association and the Native Sons of the Golden

It is meet and proper that we celebrate this day—the anniversary of California's adn.ission as a State into the American Union—on this historic spot. On that elevated mound this historic spot. On that elevated mound To say that we love our Order would feebly just across the way, the father and founder express the feelings we bear towards it. We of this great pioneer and Empire State of the Pacific pitched his tent and afterwards made his permanent home. It seems but yesterday when Captain Sutter sailed from Yerba Buena, crossed the bay, entered the Sacramento river pushed up the American just experience in the prosperity, and hope and pray that we may never have cause to grieve at its decay. What shall we say of our affection for California?—the land where our mothers river, pushed up the American just opposite rocked our cradles; the land where our this place, and coming to a landing, comfathers endured privations, and encountered menced work on the afterwards world reas he was molding the adobes and laying them dangers, in order that American might assert its beneficent sway.

We will say that we, the native in the walls of that structure, designed only as a protection to his family and property rom the ravages of surrounding Indian terests of the great State whose foundations tribes, that almost before it was completed it you laid broad and deep so many years ago. was to play so important a part in a revolution that was to wrest from the Mexican Govther the progress she has made, in the same length ful and prosperous agricultural establishment, ful and prosperous agricultural establishment, he was to become the discoverer or associate for the Native Sons. The band played "Co- is W. P. Coleman, and his chief aid is O. P. proposes, while God disposes."

Nor did the civilized world at that time hardly know of the existence of the Sacramento river or anything of the size or character of this great inland valley. At that time this whole country was but a wild waste—a wilderness inhabited by tribes of Indians or droves of human beings as wild and savage as the beasts of prey that occupied no settlement, no sign of civilization till ad possed beyond the coast range of As you gazed to behold the resun in the morning, there was a tretch of rugged mountains and sandy deserts fifteen hundred miles before you came to the outposts of civilization as they were reaching out from the Ocient towards the Occident. A thousand miles and more measured the distance to the half civilized settlements of New Mexico, and an equal distance to the north had to be traveled before you could greet your white neighbors on the Columbia river.

But Captain Sutter was master of the situation. He possessed an incipient Mexican title to this whole country and its wild inhab-itants. He could almost have said with Alexander Selkirk:

I am monarch of all I survey;
My right there is none to dispute,
From the center all round to the sea,
I am Lord of the fowl and the brute

Such was the standpoint from which Cap tain Sutter isid out his plans and engaged i their execution. In his treatment of the aborigines he was firm but kind; in fact, he was the William Penn of the Pacific. He caught the wild ox, and having chained him to the plow, he mesmerized the wild Indian and impressed him with Franklin's favorite agricultural maxim: He that by the plow would thrive Must either hold or drive. His operations were as extensive as they vetia here, which was a miniature civilized world of itself, he had a "Hock Farm" or the Feather river. He had, at the time of the discovery of gold at Coloma, 1,000 acres of land planted in wheat between his fort and the Sacramento river. He was the owner of 8,000 head of cattle, over 2,000 horses and mules, and over 2,000 sheep and 1,000 hogs He wanted lumber for his four mil a Coloma with which to saw that lumber. He and, without heeding the riparian rights of others, if any, below him, he unceremoniously diverted the waters of the American river and turned them into his mill-race. We will pass over the story of the insur-rection of Generals Castro, Vallejo and Al verado against the authority of Governor Micheltorena, and how General Sutter, through his eagerness to serve the Government that had used him so kindly and be stowed upon him so much of its territory, got on the wrong side of the conflict, and how when he was informed of the fact, withdrew his command from the field and Micheltorena by stipulation, retreated victoriously. W. will also pass over the first bear flaggeonflie', in which our very worthy Brother Green Mc-Mahon, unarmed, had a set-to with an armed grizzly and came off victorious. We will also pass over the real bear flag war, inaugurated on the 14th ef June, 1846, by Captain Mer ritt dashing into Sonoma and capturing the carrison, and which culminated on the 5th of fuly following, when, in the presence of General Fremont's battalion of 250 men, the people assembled at Sonoma and declared their independence This independence under the bear flag had a duration of but two days. Commodore Stoat captured Monterey on the 7th; the American flag was raised at Yerb Buena on the 8th, and at Sonoma on the 10th, and the hear flag came down and the stars and stripes floated on the breeze over Sutter's Fort on the 11th of July, and thus ended the bear flag war-the United States assuming control of the affairs, and the brave bear flag officers and men entering the service of the United States Government. Quick work was ade when the contest assumed this position On the 13th of January, 1847, articles of capitulation were signed by the Peace Com-missioners appointed by Colonel Fremont, on the one side, and Den Andres Pico, Comnander-in-Chief of the California forces under the Mexican flag, on the other. The country was now at peace, with Colonel R. B. Mason as Governor, and peaceful in-lustries were again respond.

On the 19th of January, 1848, James W. Marshall made the discovery of gold in the saw-mill race at Colome. We had no railthen, but the news of this discovery, and others following, soon reached all the nations of the earth. I need not tell pioneers of the years. A thousand millions was soon added to the wealth of the world, producing financial and commercial revolutions that will continue as long as man shall inhabit the wholes divide the force of individual character and individual forbear-ance thel world has never presented and Without recognition by the General Cov ernment or any other government we were of ourselves a State in the highest sense of that term. My friends,

What constitutes a State?

Not high-raised bittlement or labored mound,
Thick walls or moated gate;
Nor cities proud with spires and turrets crowned,
Not bays, nor broad-armed ports,
Where, laughing at the storm, rich navies ride;
starred and spangled courts,
re low-born baseness wafts perfume to pride:
neer, high-minded men,
bo their duties know, wither rights, and, knowing, dare maintain n was our State prior to the 9th day of tember, 1850. Such was the State which in its Constitution, "Neither slavery nor ment of cime, shall ever be tolerated in this ment of clame, shall ever be tolerated in this State," and sent delegates with this Constitution in their hands to ask admission into the sisterhood of American States. I need not recite a you the fierce contest this clause in our Constitution produced in Congress. In that contest were uttered some of the noblest sentiment; and most beautiful expressions contained in the English language. In response to Jefferson Davis the great commone, Heary Clay, said: "Coming as I do from a slave State, it is my solemn, delib-erate and well-matured determination that no power-no human power-shall compel me to vote for the positive introduction of slavery other north or south of that line.' Webster expressed these memorable words I would not take pains to reaffirm an ordinance of nature, nor re-enact the will of God," But it was left to W. H. Seward to touch the heart of every Californian in his plea for her admission. He said: "Let California come in. California that comes from the clime where the West dies away in the rising East. California, that bounds at once the empire and the continent. California, the youthful Queen of the Pacific, in the robes of freedom, gorgeously inlaid with gold, is doubly wel-comed. She stands justified for all the irreg-ularities of her coming."

If I remember right there was some irregularity in her admission. California never passed through the ordinary period of youth. She neverdonned short clothes. She bounded at once from infancy to maturity—a maturity so beautiful, so lovely, that her importunities were irresistible and she was permitted to enter the family circle of our common father sary of the admission of California into the on the same favorable terms enjoyed by her Union. It was observed in this city by a older sisters. And this is the occasion we celebrate.

The choir then sang another glee, when wholesale houses, the closing of the banks, the President introduced on behalf of Native Courts and public offices, and general display | Sons, Charles N. dancing was resumed, games were improvised, the croquet ground occupied, and a general round of amusements entered upon, that continued until darkness compelled cessation. The celebration was a very pleasing one, and not an untoward incident to mar the pleasures of the day.

WOODEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY,-Last Saturday evening a company of young ladies be taken. As you looked out towards the setting sun there was no habita-invitations were very handsomely gotten up, being printed on wood, and read as follows: "The pleasure of your company is respectof Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Joy, at their residence, No. 924, Fifteenth street, Saturday evening, September 9, 1882." The guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. Joy, assisted by Misses Ella and Alta Scott. The parlors were handsomely adorned with natural flowers and ferns. In many places beautiful floral horse shoes hung from the ceiling. Late in the evening a delegation from Court Capitol of Foresters, of which Order Mr. Joy is a member, made their appearance all laden with some tribute of love in the shape of wood, to be presented, the novelty of some of the presents causing a great deal of merriment.

Mrs. Hartop presided at the piano and played some pleasing music, after which Mrs.

Pepper sang some beautiful songs. Albert Pritchard sang "The Old Arm Chair," and was encored. Ben Leonard gave "Annie Laurie" with good effect. W. C. Etherington, "America, the Country of the Free." Subsequently refreshments were served, and shortly afterward all left for home expressing the wish that they would be present at the tin wedding of the happy couple. The following ladies were among those present:

LAND LEAGUE. - The Land League meet ing at Grand Army Hair last evening was very large and enthusiastic. J. P. Dalton upled the chair. A committee of five was appointed to decorate Turner Hall for the lecture of Rev. Father Boylan on next Sun-day evening. A very interesting programme of musical exercises was presented, including choice selections on the violin and guitar by Professors Adams and Warner; songs by Mr. O'Donnell, and vocal solos by Professor Harry Baker. Mr. Evans closed the entertainment by reciting "Shamus O'Brien." The Legue then adjourned for two weeks, in order to enable the members to attend Father Baylag's lecture next Sandar right.

THE STATE FAIR.

Twenty-ninth Annual Fair of the State Agricultural Society. The twenty-ninth annual fair of the Californis State Agricultural Society begins today in this city. The Pavilion will open at 7 Entries will be received at the Park and Pavilion to-day up to 6 P. M. The stock 10 A. M. The President's address will be de- ural Park. livered Tuesday evening at the Pavilion. The races will begin at 1 P. M. to-day and each day hereafter, unless there is some special change made. The admission rates have not been changed, but remain as heretoore-$5 for a season ticket and 50 cents for a single admission. The season ticket admits the buyer and his family, and the word "family" is not to be construed his cousins, his sisters and his aunts, but only himself, wife and minor children.

For a good attendance is exceedingly good. A very large number of visitors are already in the city. The hotel and restaurant men report the demands made upon them larger than in any preceding year on the first day before the fair. The Pavilion is in a very forward state, and every inch of room is spoken for. The necessity for a larger and better Pavilion is painfully impressed upon the visitor. To attempt to hold a State Exposition in such confined quarters of itself prevents an extensive display. But this year the promise is for a large exhibition; as to its variety, interest and quality time will tell. The directory has made the very best of the capacity of the Pavilion, insufficient as it is. They have erected a band stand in front of the gallery that will be found to be a decided improvement. The Pavilion has been very tastefully decorated by George Boyne, and several new designs introduced appropriate to the occasion. On the banners disposed about the main hall are mblazoned the names of all the counties of the State. At the north end of the hall is a andsome design in the form of a Corinthian pediment. There are also at different points mottoes appropriate to the place and occasion. Bunting, streamers, banners, etc., are liberally displayed. The art gallery occupies the inclosed veranda on the west. Norton Bush is superintendent of this department. It was ighted at 8 o'cleck last evening for the first time. The display is quite good. There will be nearly 200 paintings numbered in the catalogue. Among these are three of the best works Thomas Hill has ever sent from his studio, and several of Keith's and Brooke's best. A number of the paintings are loaned for the occasion, but there is also a fair display of new works; some of these are from the brushes of artists whose names have not before been noted in a State Fair catalogue. Among the collection are thirty of somewhat celebrated Catlin pictures, which are portraits of noted North American Indians. These paintings have their chief interest in the fact that Catlin painted the portraits of 310 braves and warriors, the work being done in their wig-wams in mountain, prairie or forest, just as he was able to find them, and induce them to consent to sit. Among the works of art two will attract much attention. They are both recent purchases by Mrs. E. B. Crocker. One is the statue of a crying child, the other a tinted, veiled cupid. This is the first tinted piece of statuary, it is believed, that has been exhibited here. It is an artwork that will be a center of attraction during the week. To prevent injury to it it has been placed in a glass case in the small hall, though properly it should be in the art gallery. The floricultural department is located in an annex on the north side. The main halls already have a fair display of wooden ware, canned goods, pianos, furniture, wall paper, millinery fancy goods, photography, sewing machines, woolen goods, confectionery, needle work, millinery, embroidery, gas fittings, scroll work, gr ernment, to which he had swern allegiance, an empire, and transfer it with its infinite wealth of treasure to the great American Republic. At a meeting of the Board of Directors last evening all the preliminaries for fair week were arranged. They agreed to give a purse of $300 for Wild Flower to trot on Saturday against Phil Thompson's three-year-old record of 2:21, and $50 added for every half second she can lower it.

Messrs, Green, Chase and Shippee were appointed a committee to arrange for a special race for named horses on Saturday, in special race for hamed horses on Saturday, in addition to the regular programme. The President, H. M. LaRne, on behalf of the Society, presented G. W. ORDERS FROM THE CHIEF. - Chief of Police Karcher has notified the management of the street railway that during fair week they must observe Chapter 6 of Section 5 of Ordinance 17, which reads as follows: "Section 5. All street cars and horses thereto attached, when stopped on any street railroad between Front and Tenth, and I and K streets, inclusive, in the city of Sacramento, shall be stopped clear of the intersections of the streets and of the street crossings, and shall see the allowed to the or street in any of the not be allowed to stop or stand in any of the atersections of said streets. Any person having the control or management of the running of any street car, or who shall violate the pro visions of this section, shall be punished by fine of not less than ten nor more than one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment for not less than five nor more than two hundred Passing Counterfeit Money,-Last evening, about half past 9 o'clock, a young man by the name of Kenedy, employed as a waiter in a restaurant on K street, between Third and Fourth, rushed into a shooting gallery across the way, and threw a half dolpon receiving it he immediately returned to the restaurant. The proprietor of the galery discovered that the coin was a counter feit. Officer Carrell, who happened to be in the vicinity at the time, was informed of the transaction, and started in pursuit. The officer entered the restaurant in time to see hi man pass out of the back door. The officer then ran around to the slley on Fourth street, arrested Kenedy, and took him to the sta-

NOMINATED FOR SHERIFF.-The Republic can County Central Committee met at the Rhoads & Townsend House Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. The meeting was called to order by the Chairman, John Rider, who stated that the meeting was called for the purpose of selecting a candidate for Sheriff in place of Thomas H. Berkey, whose name had been removed from the ticket. Philip Herzig was unanimously chosen for the position. Mr. Herzog was chosen at a previous meeting, but when the nomination was tendered him he declined on account of business arrangements. Since that time he has been importuned by his friends to accept, and has yielded to their request. A card from Mr. Herzog appears in another column.

Garden troupe cencluded its engagement with the presentation of "Satanella" last evening. To-night Mrs. F. M. Bates and a selected company from the Baldwin Theater will begin a week's engagement. Mrs. Bates was a great favorite in this city when playing at the old Metropolitan. Her support is said to be thoroughly good. The drama for tonight will be a new version of "East Lynne"—one that has never been given here, and that is claimed to be superior in plot, text and interest to any yet presented.
